Update

September 2, 2013 at 4am. Swim Time: 43:00

Reported by: Alex de Cordoba

We can see the lights of Key West growing brighter and brighter before us. Diana is swimming strong after 43 hours non-stop. She knows where she is and it's giving her added strength.

Our navigator John Bartlett is consulting closely with the other captains to plan the best route into Key West. There are tides, eddys, currents, shipping lanes, reefs and swarms of jellyfish to consider.

As soon as we have a reasonable estimate of when and where Diana is headed, we will let you know.
