Listen in to this primer shark expert Mark Rackley gave to our Shark Safety Divers.

One could assume (or rather hope) that among motors from boats and electric Shark Shields attached on the bottom of our kayaks, sharks wouldn't take a chance and surface near me.

About this capture

But the reality is that we are way, way out there. Some of these animals in those wide open waters haven't eaten in a couple of weeks or more. They are basically unafraid.

We had a great education from shark expert Luke Tipple last year. But Luke is busy with a Discovery Channel shoot at the moment so Mark Rackley was kind enough to spend some quality time with us.

Get an idea of what we're heading toward from this conversation.... and visit Mark's site, MarkRackleyProductions.com for incredible footage of these prehistoric animals.
